THE COMMON COUNCIL - 1976

Much could be said this evening about the 1976 Common Council. But then, much has already been said, and written, regarding this very active and aggressive body.

The Council in the past year fulfilled its function as an alert legislative body. It often went beyond normal requirements - but always with dignity and within the law.

The Council understands the law and respects the law. It is aware of its responsibility under the law.

A super initiative was exhibited at times and a strong spirit always prevailed. The Council had a timeless energy and showed a great capacity for understanding.

Often it was a challenging force, often a consoling source, often a pacifier in a confused government. But above all - it was a determined legislative group that maintained a vigilance and a check and balance so badly needed at all levels of government today.

Our deeds are known. There is no need to recap our accomplishments.

As for the future, I would hope that certain things might change, for instance - the communication between the Mayor and the Council. Communication from the Mayor has been almost nonexistent in spite of Council's repeated requests for meetings, conferences, updates, etc. on a collective basis. Three meetings per year are simply not enough of a relationship between the executive and legislative branches.

In the new year the Council's energy will be tapped even more. City governments everywhere are experiencing economic and other pressures.

But this is a very strong Council. It is a determined group that will execute its responsibilities.
